Greens Say Challenge To $10B LNG Facility Not Filed Late

By Juan Carlos Rodriguez

Law360, New York (December 08, 2014, 6:17 PM ET) -- Environmentalists on Friday told the D.C. Circuit that their petition challenging the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission's approval of a $10 billion liquefied natural gas export facility was not filed late despite the agency's argument that it came in 25 seconds after a 5 p.m. deadline.

In July, the Sierra Club and the Gulf Restoration Network asked the commission to revisit its June order approving a Sempra Energy subsidiary's $10 billion plan to convert an existing LNG import facility in Cameron Parish, Louisiana, into a liquefaction and...
